The state of the adult social care sector and workforce in England, 2017

- 1.58 million jobs
- Turnover rate 27.8%
- Vacancy rate 6.6%
- 83% British with 95,000 staff EU and 127,000 non-EU
- Anticipated demand to 2030 – Between 350,000 and 700,000 new jobs

There are approximately 90,000 vacancies at any given time.

People that leave the sector

32.6% Leave within the first twelve months?

- We know that around two thirds of these leavers remain in the sector
- Leavers tend to leave employers not job roles
- Experience is retained within the sector

Why is this and what needs to be done?

Varying practices across the sector...

- Inappropriate people can be recruited from the start
 - Quality of workforce planning
 - Immediate pressure to fill vacancies – Constant cycle
 - Expectations of the job role do not match perceptions of new entrants
 - Quality of induction/ support in the first few weeks
 - Pay/ incentive differentiations
 - Organisational cultures
 - Quality of leaders and managers
 - Opportunities for learning and development

Support from Skills for care

- I Care... Ambassadors to help raise the understanding of the sector, its job roles and opportunities

Potential impacts from Brexit?

The Cavendish Coalition

- A group of health and social care organisations united in their commitment to provide the best care to communities, service users, patients and citizens.
- Recognises that the talented and diverse group of people employed within the sectors are central to the success of that commitment, and that individuals from the UK, Europe and across the world, make a vital contribution to delivering care to the UK's population.
- Acts as a shared voice which influences and lobbies on post-EU referendum matters and provides those leading the negotiations with expertise and knowledge on the issues affecting the health and social care workforce.
- Committed to working together to ensure a continued domestic and international pipeline of high calibre professionals and trainees in health and social care.
- Currently the coalition is working to provide a response to the call for evidence from the Migration Advisory Committee (MAC) which has been commissioned by the Home Secretary to look at evidence from employers to inform:
 - The Impacts of 'Brexit' on the UK labour market
 - How the UK's immigration system should be aligned with a modern industrial strategy. (Evidence submission by 27th October with MAC reporting September, 2018)

What works well?

26% of employers have a turnover rate of less than 10%

Whilst not making light on the enduring pressures to recruit and retain good people, we know that some employers report very low turnover and vacancy rates.

Our focus is to understand more about why this is, to share good practice, develop resources based on evidence and to work with other employers that want support to implement change
